Nestled on a quiet road, this converted church has been meticulously and lovingly renovated, integrating all the conveniences of modern living while retaining original and authentic details of the building.

Built circa 1892, with a rich full brick exterior, the church was first home to Methodist and United congregations. It then became a residential home for families, who updated it, creating something wonderful and unique.

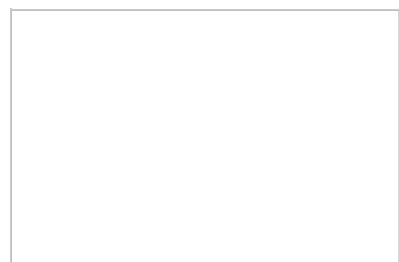

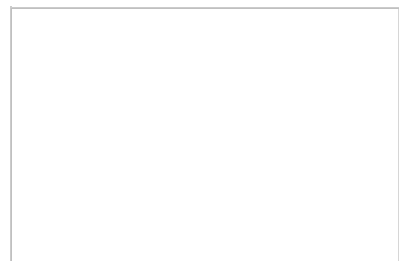

Original double doors lead to the interior of the home which features soaring ceilings, stained glass windows, antique wide-plank pine flooring, carriage lights, wainscoting, breadboard ceilings, archway, pillars, and built-in cabinetry.

The expansive living also has an impressive wood fireplace and opens to a spacious kitchen that is both practical and timeless.

The open-concept master suite is a study in privacy and comfort. It features cathedral ceilings, hardwood floors, a free standing tub, and a private WC.

A beautifully crafted wood stairc...
